Suffolk County Community College's Hotel and Resort Management degree (A.A.S.) and one-year certificate programs are designed for individuals with a career interest in the lodging and resort industry.

If you would enjoy working in a fast-paced atmosphere where every day is different, where you will meet people from all over the world, and where your unique, friendly and outgoing personality are job requirements, then the Hotel/Resort Management Program could be just for you!

The Hotel and Resort Management industry represents a wide range of businesses, from the small country inn or bed and breakfast, to multi-national chains of hotels and resorts. Management opportunities exist in front-office operations, food and beverage management, banquet-meeting sales, human resources, facilities management and more.
