Digital Justice

Solidarity while Social Distancing

The Center for Social Justice and Human Understanding, Inc. remains committed to education and to providing support for those who need it most, even in times of a pandemic.

Opportunities for continued outreach and education on how to serve our community are still available in digital form. The following webinars are available free of charge to the public. Each are hosted by an array of organizations dedicated to the rights of our friends and neighbors. We hope that you will stand in solidarity and support efforts to combat inequity while social distancing.

Anti-Defamation League (ADL)
Fighting Hate From Home

In this series, the ADL discusses Covid-19 and how hate groups are using the disease to advance conspiratorial theories and hate campaigns

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=brfeOqzEB4U&list=PLEPACLR6xldqDzHj4dkQb-HSizqdgWtiJ&index=1

Human Rights Institute at Columbia Law School:
COVID –19: Advancing Rights and Justice During a Pandemic

Columbia Law School's Human Rights Institute has partnered with its Center for Gender and Sexuality Law, Duke Law's International Human Rights Clinic, and Just Security to host a 6-part virtual panel discussion with various professionals in the field, offering insight into governmental policies and their effects for furthering discrimination and inequalities against underrepresented populations.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PUDW49D7nWM&list=PL0xWoLxZcz8Re-9B-mpZfyaKZcfyPoFFi&index=2

The Long Island Progressive Coalition (LIPC)
Lunch with LIPC: Structural Racism & Deadly Disparities

The LIPC is hosting a panel discussion on the disproportionate racial disparities prior to the pandemic and how COVID-19 is jeopardizing the health and welfare of the black community. Professionals from various organizations will explore the history of racism and potential policy solutions to promote equity. You can join this webinar via Zoom by registering at the link below and refer to their website to view prior recordings.

https://lipc.ourpowerbase.net/sites/all/modules/civicrm/extern/url.php?u=6125&qid=1038024

American Bar Association (ABA)
Section of Civil Rights and Social Justice
Coronavirus Responsorial Programming

The ABA's SCRSJ creates a series of reactive programming to the Covid-19 pandemic, discussing such topics as homelessness, the rise in xenophobia and Asian community related hate crimes, as well as economic concerns and protecting our native population. These topics are discussed in a series of panel discussion offered directly through their website.

https://www.americanbar.org/groups/crsj/events_cle/crsj-covid-19-series/

Stay connected to the issues affecting your community and get involved:

2020 CENSUS

The Coronavirus pandemic has affected states across the nation, but as New York became the epicenter, we fell short of necessary supplies to protect our essential workers and ourselves. Now more than ever, completing the census is vital in ensuring that our community receives the funding it needs. If you haven't already done so, log on to the Census 2020 website and help support your community….

https://my2020census.gov/

VOTER REGISTRATION

The Center for Social Justice & Human Understanding (CSJHU) and The Andrew Goodman Foundation have collaborated through the VOTE EVERYWHERE initiative in efforts to educate individuals on the importance of voting. Through the link below you can find out if you are registered, sign up for absentee ballots, locate your polling place, and more…

https://andrewgoodman.org/myvoteeverywhere/suffolk-county-community-college/

CSJHU

Find us on social media

Instagram: @thecenter4socialjustice

Facebook: The Center for Social Justice and Human Understanding @CSJHU

Twitter:

This is a time of unprecedented uncertainty:

STAY MINDFUL

While we stand in support of those experiencing unnecessary acts of discrimination during this difficult time, we must also remember the importance of self care. Our hearts and minds are being put through the ultimate test, and as we have all felt the affects of COVID-19, practicing calming techniques or taking on new hobbies are a few ways we can stay mindful and reduce stress. If you are a student experiencing difficulties with your studies or are facing insecurities, we encourage you to visit the Suffolk County Community College website for various department contact information and useful links...

https://www.sunysuffolk.edu/coronavirus/student-information.jsp