2020-2021 Request for Dependency Override

Financial aid regulations maintain that the family (student and parents) must assume the primary responsibility for meeting the student's educational costs of attending college. Therefore, parental information is normally required to determine a student's eligibility for federal financial assistance.

The Department of Education has specifically stated that the following four conditions "individually or in combination with one another, do not qualify as unusual circumstances and therefore would not merit a dependency override":

1. Parents refusing to contribute to the student's education
2. Parents unwilling to provide information on the application or for verification
3. Parents not claiming the students as a dependent for income tax purposes
4. Student demonstrating total self-sufficiency

Only in extremely unusual documented situations can parental information be waived, such as in cases where the student has been forced from the family home because of parental abuse (physical or mental), estrangement, abandonment, drug/alcohol abuse, mental incapacity or another such situation beyond the student's control. In cases such as these, the likelihood that the student would return to the parent(s) household and/or rely upon the parents for financial support would be very low.

Carefully review page 2 for the required documentation to be submitted for consideration of a Dependency Override. If for any reason you cannot provide all requested documentation, it is necessary to explain in detail the reason(s).

For additional information, you may contact your campus Financial Aid Office. Return this completed request form with required documentation to your home campus.

1. File your 2020-2021 FAFSA online indicating you have special circumstances. This will skip the parent information on the application. Wait until you have received notice of rejection before submitting this request with supporting documentation.
2. Attach a notarized personal statement which includes the following information:
  - The specific reason(s) you cannot obtain your parental income information and signatures in completing the 2020-2021 FAFSA.
  - The event(s) leading up to your separation from your parents, including the date of separation. Describe the current status of your relationship with your parents including your last date of contact. You must include information about both parents, even if they were not married at the date of your separation.
  - An explanation of your living arrangements and means of financial support from the date of separation up to the present time.
  - If supported by another individual since the date of separation from your parents, identify the individual(s), describe the nature of that support and state the period of time supported.
3. Attach supporting documentation:
  - Notarized statements from two adult sources that are intimately familiar with and can provide additional insights into your family situation. At least one statement should be from a professional, i.e., guidance counselor, attorney, doctor, clergy member, mental health professional, law enforcement official, etc. The letter from the professional does not need to be notarized if it is on official letterhead.
  - Proof of income for 2018, i.e., copy of signed federal tax return or IRS transcript, copy of W-2 statements, untaxed income/benefits (unless solely supported by another individual).
4. Certification: I certify that all information I have provided is true and accurate. I understand that providing false or deliberately misleading statements is a violation of federal law and may result in a prison sentence, fines, or both.
